

OUR MILITIA BOYS PLEASED WITH OUTING

Every Member of "Glendale's Own" Testifies In Appreciation

Back in mufti with whiskers and grime removed from their faces after two weeks encampment in Yosemite Park, members of "Glendale's Own" declare that their initiation into the real life of a soldier was an experience well worth while. Temporarily weary from the physical exertions they have undergone, to a man they are unanimous in believing that the vacation they combined with camp life would be difficult to duplicate in any manner other than in the role of a soldier.

"We had some time!" announced Corporal Bert Angerson this morning, in reviewing his experience at the camp. "Of course it was hard work at times but there was lots of fun to go with it. My squad was the midge combination of the company, but in all the time we were in Yosemite they showed up fine. None of them ever reported on sick call."

"When do we chow?" it seems to me was the question most frequently asked at camp," said Company Clerk Bernarr Dennison, musing over his two weeks career as a soldier. "And when they did chow," he explained, "someone always had to ask 'who left the harness on this horse?' But after all we made out pretty well with the grub. One day we had a splurge with over twenty pies to eat. Can you beat that here?"

"Well, we're back again," was the greeting Sergeant Alexander extended. Asked what sort of a time the company had he said:

"The men have all improved and look much better after camping out in the open in the fresh mountain air and with the exercise they were given. Most of the men were anxious to see Glendale again, but others hated to leave so much that they got jobs up at Yosemite to help clean up the camp site. Corporal Weetman and Paul Holland will not be back for a week."

"Most of the instruction in camp was given to us by Major Cotton, a West Point graduate, who was a fine lecturer. The men learned a great deal from him that will be of big military value to them."

Why Its Hot

(By International News Service)
ANN ARBOR, Mich., July 26.—The conjunction of Jupiter and Saturn is not to blame for the excessive heat this summer, according to Professor Ralph Curtis, of the University of Michigan. The heat thrown off by other planets is so small as to be almost negligible, the professor declares. The two planets are several million miles distant and that they only seem to be approaching closer because they are in a line with the earth. Nor, are comets to blame, the Michigan scientist declares, for the torrid waves.

They had reached the summit when Morley slipped and fell to some projecting boulders. His friends reached him and at a risk of their own lives lowered him 500 feet to a trail, and secured aid. Physicians found Morley had sustained a fractured skull as well as other hurts, and he has remained unconscious.

"JOHN D." FIGURES IN ROMANCE RUMOR

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 26.—An astounding report that John D. Rockefeller, sr., the world's richest man, is contemplating matrimony, which spread through high financial and social circles today, was denied this afternoon by the oil king's secretary at his Tarrytown estate.

When the International News Service communicated the report to the secretary, he said:

"That is perfect nonsense. Mr. Rockefeller is all right. If you want to find out more call up number 26 Broadway."

John D. Rockefeller, jr., was reported "in the country" but his secretary said he had not heard that Mr. Rockefeller was to marry and that the report was too flimsy to call the oil king in reference to it.

The rumors were circumstantial in that they reported the lady in question to be a "middle-aged friend of the Rockefeller family," and that the marriage was to take place "after the first of the year."

Potatoes for a day will reign supreme in the San Fernando valley. The lowly spud will be seen, eaten and eulogized on July 28.

The date has been set by proclamation as "Potato day" throughout Southern California, and it is hoped, through the medium of this special day, to stimulate consumption of the Irish vegetable to relieve financial losses that seem impending to farmers because of an unsatisfactory market. At the same time, it is hoped to encourage farmers to plant a bumper fall crop.

GOVERNOR SMALL IS ORDERED INTO CUSTODY

Executive of Illinois' Claim for Immunity Is Ignored by Circuit Court

(By International News Service)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 26.—Governor Len Small, of Illinois, today was ordered arrested on charges involving misuse of state interest funds.

His arrest was ordered by Circuit Court Judge Smith in a decision denying the right of a governor to immunity from the state criminal code. Warrants charging the governor with a confidence game, embezzlement and conspiracy to defraud, involving $2,500,000, were in the hands of Circuit Court Clerk Charles L. Koehn when Judge Smith handed down the informal decision.

They were given to Sheriff Henry Mesler for immediate service. The court offered to grant the governor a "reasonable period" in which to submit to arrest, but warned the governor's attorneys that the sheriff would be "compelled by law" to serve the warrants. He also decreed the report that the governor might call out troops. The judge declared he did not believe that National Guardsmen, if called out by the governor, would obey orders to obstruct the law by protecting the chief executive from arrest.

Just as court was adjourned, the judge received a large bouquet of roses.

"Someone has sent the court a bouquet," he said. "I hope that after they have heard what the court had to say, they will want the bouquet to remain."

"If the sheriff wilfully or corruptly delays service of a capias, he is subject to prosecution by this court," the judge declared.

The court then pointed out that a grant of immunity to arrest at this time would in effect be an order preventing the prosecution of the governor for all time.

NEW INSTRUCTORS FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Since Principal Moyse of Glendale High school last reported, a few more changes in and additions to the teaching staff have been made. Walter Nourse, who was selected for the position of general science teacher, was also chosen for one of the Los Angeles schools. He has decided to accept the latter appointment, because it will lead him to certain special lines which he is anxious to work into. Another teacher of general science must therefore be elected.

Frederick F. Borncamp has been named for English, history and civics; Mrs. Helen S. Moir of this city for chemistry and mathematics, while Mrs. Bessie Stone returns to take up again classes in Spanish. She was with Glendale High for several years. Last year she taught in Coachella.

A "Musical Cop"

(By International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 26.—A noise somewhat similar to that produced by a saw when its tips through wood drifted toward the bench from the middle of Judge Kennedy's municipal courtroom.

"Who's so musical in my court?" thundered the Judge.

"Its Policeman J. Hudgins sleeping," several other patrolmen volunteered.

"What are you doing here?" Judge Kennedy asked the negro policeman, after he was awakened.

"I'm here to prosecute Miss Hazel Edwards," Hudgins stated. "What's the charge?" the city prosecutor demanded.

"She was sleepin' on a bench in the city park," Hudgins replied, rubbing his eyes.

"Help!" shouted Judge Kennedy.

Miss Edwards, a negress, was released.

DAIRYMEN OF GLENDALE REDUCE PRICES OF MILK

Changes in Bills for Current Month Will Mark Return to Normal Rates—The Daily Press Campaign for Lower Prices of Milk Brings Results

News which was on the way to the milk users of Glendale and intended as a pleasant surprise for them when they should receive their bills for the current month, has leaked out, and the Daily Press is glad to herald it for the information of the housewives and mothers who have felt the pinch of high prices that a reduction is to be made in the price of milk.

July 1, the leading dairies serving Glendale, and that means the Glendale creamery, the Jessup dairy, the Eagle Rock dairy, conducted by C. C. Miller, and some smaller concerns, reduced the price of pasteurized and raw milk from 16 cents to 15 cents a quart, and of special milk from 20 cents to 19 cents. On the 11th inst. another cut of 1 cent was made, bringing the price down to 14 cents a quart and 8 cents a pint, for pasteurized and raw milk, and to 18 cents a quart for special milk, or 10 cents a pint for the latter.

This last cut was effective from July 11th.

When the dairies were called up by phone, the news which means so much to the children of the community and to the ailing and aged whose welfare depends upon milk as an essential part of their diet, was confirmed by each one.

Mrs. Jessup explained that the reduction had been possible because of changed conditions with regard to the price of feed. It is the custom of the Jessup dairy to lay in its stocks at this season for a year in advance. Last year the hay purchased cost $30 a ton and beet pulp, $45 a ton. These high-priced stocks are only just being finished up. The hay that this dairy is now putting in for the coming year has been bought for $18 a ton, and Mrs. Jessup has just been advised that the beet pulp will cost only $28 a ton. This saving will make a considerable reduction in the cost of production, and, therefore, the dairies are in a position to share the advantage with customers.

TAX VALUATION TWELVE MILLIONS

City Manager Watson Finds That Glendale Will Have More Funds

The estimate of income and expenditures for the present fiscal year as compiled in a budget report submitted to the city council by City Manager Thomas Watson, July 14, has been supplemented and revised as a result of the discovery that additional funds will be available beyond the amount anticipated at the time the budget was originally compiled.

These additional funds are based on tentative figures which go to show that the assessed valuation of Glendale will be somewhat in excess of $12,000,000 instead of $10,000,000, the former figure. This increase valuation brings the revenue of the city from general tax up to $120,000 instead of $105,000—the amount originally estimated.

Expenditures provided for in the budget as a result of the increase in revenue are as follows:

General Government: Elections $15,000.

Department of Public Welfare: One additional sanitary inspector at $125 a month.

Public Safety Department: Two additional patrolmen and two additional firemen at $120 each a month.

Public Works Department: For the purchase of equipment $2,840.

The budget as supplemented and amended will come up for discussion before the city council Thursday night when it is expected that it will be accepted. The tax rate for Glendale will be determined on the basis of budget value at an early date.

SHADOW OF DEATH MENACING RUSSIA

RICA, July 26.—Famine and cholera are depopulating soviet Russia and all government projects except those for the relief of the people have been ordered stopped.

The supplies brought in Russia by the American Society of Friends (Quakers) have been exhausted. The Quakers have been invited by the soviet, however, to extend their work.

All offers of help for Russian children from abroad will be accepted, Lenin declared at Moscow. The plight of the Russian children is terrible. The death rate of children is much higher than that of adults. Already children are stunted, showing the evils of the 1920 famine.

COUNCILMEN HOLD SPECIAL MEETING

A Larger Appropriation for Advertising City of Glendale Discussed

A special meeting of the city council, designed to serve as a hearing on the proposed budget which the council has under consideration, was held at the city hall Monday evening. At that time a committee from the Glendale chamber of commerce, composed of Secretary Rhoades, George H. Bentley, and C. D. Lusby, addressed the councilmen asking for a larger appropriation for advertising Glendale than had been made in the proposed budget. They dwelt upon the necessity of having the city properly represented at such affairs as the Tournament of Roses in Pasadena, and special festivities of like character that develop from time to time, and asked for an appropriation of $5,000.

The committeemen declared it unfair to shift the responsibility of such advertising onto the chamber, which is composed of but a fraction of the population of the city, arguing that the whole city benefits from such advertising and the whole city should, therefore, contribute.

In response members of the council assured Mr. Rhoades and his associates of their sympathy with his view but under the provisions of the charter the amount that can be appropriated is limited to 2 cents on every $100 of valuation, which would make the outside amount $2,400. As a matter of compromise the council voted to increase its advertising appropriation from $700 to $1,500.

Action on the budget was deferred until the next regular meeting, viz. Thursday evening, when the general public will again be given an opportunity to be heard on any of its provisions.

The council also disposed of other matters as follows: The application of V. G. Barney for permit to do street work which had been endorsed by the street superintendent, was granted.

Jesse E. Smith was given a permit to install and maintain a gasoline storage tank and pump on Lots 13 and 14, Block 63, Campbell and Thompson Tract.

Under Resolution No. 1224, the council voted its approval of the official map of Tract No. 3879.

T. A. Wright was given a permit to install a cesspool on East Broadway.

The city manager's estimate of income and expenditures for the coming year, as amended, was ordered filed and referred to Committee of the Whole.

DAZED MAIDEN IS IN CHARGE OF DR. C. E. ECKLES

Marion Locke Is Said To Be Name of Distressed Wanderer

A young woman, about 18 years who was found wandering in vacant lots about 6 a. m. in a dazed condition by a police officer, is now in the care of City Health Officer Eckles and an effort is being made to locate her friends.

Dr. Eckles says there is no evidence that she has suffered any physical harm, but she was in an exhausted condition and covered with dirt and grass, as though she had been straying through brush and weed patches. She was unable to tell her name or remember recent occurrences, but could tell of happenings of the past.

Deputy Health Officer P. G. Wells finally recognized her as a former playmate of eight or ten years ago when they were children and living in the south part of Los Angeles. Her name was Marion Locke, but she did not respond when addressed in that way and talked vaguely about a husband. Mr. Wells is confident that the Locke family can be located, although it has moved from the locality mentioned, and that this girl who, he believes is suffering from mental shock, can be restored to them and with care will recover.

CARPENTERS BUSY AT GLENDALE HIGH

W. G. Boyd, the building contractor, with Walter Gorman, who is to be a teacher in the wood-working department of Glendale high the coming year, and a group of workmen, have been given the right-of-way at the high school and are busy making changes called for by the program of alterations laid out by the board of trustees.

One of the things they are doing is to convert the classroom just beyond the private office of Principal Moyse into an office that will provide an adequate place for registration of the 1200 students who will soon be appearing. The present small office is needed as a telephone and reception room for patrons of the school. Its counter room is insufficient to accommodate the teachers who will assist Principal Moyse, Assistant Principal Ferguson and their aides in the student registration.

Another important job for the carpenters is the creation of a room for the auto repair course. This course has proved popular and more space is needed to accommodate students and machines. To secure it, the dry kiln room will be used for stocks of lumber and the tanning room will be done away with. The old tool room and the lumber room will be converted into bench rooms for the wood-working department, leaving surplus space for the auto repair work.

Improve Street

Work has begun on the improvement of South Brand at San Fernando road. The trees on the triangular piece of ground bounded by Forest street, Glendale avenue and San Fernando road are being felled to make room for Harry Whites' sales and office buildings. From the time the Press was on the street that afternoon until last night Mr. Deakin was besieged with people trying their hardest to get his goat. He finally capitulated when a widow having eight children asked for the animal.

New Indictments Returned by Los Angeles County Grand Jury

Because the names of certain witnesses whose testimony was offered by the prosecuting attorney were not included in the indictment against the eighteen individuals and fourteen corporations engaged in the retail milk business in Los Angeles, and charged with criminal conspiracy against the trade, in indictments returned June 21, an attempt was made by attorneys for the defense to have the indictments set aside. But new indictments identical with the originals, except for the addition of the names of witnesses referred to, were returned Monday at a special session of the grand jury, and the bill, originally required, of $1000 each, was ordered to stand by Judge Reeve. The arraignment under the new indictments was set for August 4.

District Attorney Woolwine assured the indicted men and corporations that their efforts to stall for time and evade the real issue by raising technical questions would avail them nothing, as the case would be tried at the earliest possible date on its merits.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acid in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

NEW POSTOFFICE FOR EAGLE ROCK

Ground for the new building to be occupied by the Eagle Rock postoffice was broken yesterday at Colorado boulevard and Myrtle avenue by the Edwards & Wilkey Contracting Company. A one story, brick structure, 60 feet by 70 feet, will be erected.

Persuasion on the postoffice department, to permit a direct distribution of mail through Eagle Rock, was exerted by the chamber of commerce and Congressman Linberger.

DAMAGES COLLECTED UNDER FORCE THREAT

(By International News Service) GREENBORO, Ala., July 26.—Here's a brand-new scheme for making corporations pay damages to property when said corporations are reluctant about so doing. Charles and Alec Waller got judgment against a railroad which left the track adjoining their property and proceeded to smash things up generally.

The Waller brothers got the judgment all right, but collecting the amount of the damages awarded was another thing. Hearing that a large amount of money had been paid into the Greenboro freight office, however, the Wallers, with their attorney, proceeded to present their bill for payment. The agent refused. The sheriff was notified. He threatened to break the safe in which the money was kept and collect the claim. The agent capitulated.

REALTY ACTIVE IN SOUTH GLENDALE

Big Demand for Property Along San Fernando Road as Business Sites

C. E. Von Oven reports that the most notable feature of the midsummer realty business as shown by transactions recorded in the five offices of Charles B. Guthrie, is the activity in South Glendale. A great deal of realty is quietly changing hands there, he says. The greatest demand is for lots and small homes. Men employed in Los Angeles or who have businesses of their own there, are being attracted to Glendale because of its nearness to the Angel City, its good and cheap transportation facilities and its beauty.

Said Mr. Von Oven: "We are reminded every day of pre-war conditions, when purchasers could make a payment down and then make regular monthly payments. With respect to cash, times are changing and sellers are willing to accept smaller payments down, with substantial monthly deposits. We are glad to see this, because in 99 cases out of 100 it means an addition to our city's population of good folk who like Glendale and want to make a home here—people who may have plenty of property but perhaps have their cash tied up in business or investments."

"The demand for property along San Fernando road is very good, and we have calls for property along that thoroughfare that we cannot meet. Recent changes in ownership in Glendale include the following:

"Property at 505 West Colorado, owned by Mrs. Halstead and Mrs. Keler of this city, who reside on Oak street, to Fred H. Sauter, a recent addition to Glendale. He has already moved his family and will gradually improve the place.

"Fred D. Myers has sold to J. C. Barnett a lot on Brand just above Milford. Both buyer and seller are well-known here. It is expected that Mr. Barnett will improve his purchase in the near future.

"A large corner lot on Boynton and Palmer has been sold by Sophie L. Mackey of Los Angeles to H. D. Lowden of Pasadena. It is his intention to immediately improve this beautiful property with two modern bungalows.

"Charles B. Guthrie has been persuaded to sell his attractive home site on something over an acre on Grand View, just above Kenneth road, to C. F. Johns of Los Angeles, who plans to soon build a home upon it. It adjoins acreage I owned and recently sold and which I had intended to improve with a home. Mr. Guthrie sold because he had decided to retain his present home at 318 Patterson avenue, which he had recently improved by making substantial additions in the way of porches and screened sleeping rooms, at the same time rearranging and decorating the interior. It has made him a very beautiful and comfortable residence.

"Leland A. Storch, a recent comer to Glendale, has purchased from D. I. Nofziger a lot on Cypress adjoining Sycamore canyon. Mr. Nofziger was one of the pioneers in that part of Glendale. At present he is living in Azusa. The buyer will build a home for himself and mother.

"Mrs. E. S. Traugott of Los Angeles recently sold a lot she owned on East Chestnut to C. H. Knapp of Los Angeles, who has already taken out a permit for the house he plans to build upon it.

"A beautiful acre home site covered with fruit trees, just above Kenneth road in the vicinity of Highland avenue, has been sold by H. J. Kohl of 332 Arden avenue to W. L. Bowles of Los Angeles, who has already arranged to improve it with a residence, which he will occupy as a home."

(By International News Service) SEATTLE, Wash., July 26.—Uncle Sam's Treasury probably will be enriched to the extent of $2,500,000 by this Summer's sealing operations in the Pribilof islands, if the objective of the 1921 drive is reached. Sam Brown Belts

(By International News Service) WASHINGTON, July 26.—As army officers began to blossom forth in Sam Brown belts in accordance with the War Department's order restoring this popular article of military wearing apparel to general usage, the price of this equipment, which has been a drug on the market, immediately soared upward and many different forms of the belt made their appearance.

Officers who served with the American Expeditionary Forces, from General Pershing down to second "loole" who grabbed his commission ten minutes before homebound transport sailed from Brest, were ready and waiting when the Sam Brown order was issued.

But the others were required to buy belts, and Major-General H. L. Rogers, of the Quartermaster's Corps has decided to issue a standard belt with a view to ultimately adopting one for the use of officers.

MATCH WOODWORK 3000 MILES AWAY

Service to the Nth degree, the slogan adopted by the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber Company, is being shown up as verity in the nine-room residence being constructed at 333 Riverdale Drive for L. E. Hill, owner of a chain of cafeterias in Chicago who is building his home here.

Mr. Hill was disappointed in a home he built in Chicago a year ago because the contractor there had failed to properly match the woodwork of the house with his furniture. As a consequence, when after visiting Glendale a month ago and deciding to make his home here, Mr. Hill was particularly exacting in asking Bentley-Schoeneman Company, who received the contract, to have the woodwork blend with his furniture.

As Mr. Hill's furniture was in Chicago this appeared a doubly difficult task and was only overcome through the ingenuity of H. D. Charlton, head draftsman of the lumber company, who made arrangements with the Glendale Paint and Paper Company, local representatives of the Pratt & Lambert Paint Company of Chicago, to have sample panels of the furniture made through the Chicago firm. Sample panels of oak, mahogany, and southern gum are now in the offices of Bentley-Schoeneman Company which will be used as guides in finishing the interior woodwork of the house.

This is an unusual bit of work in view of the fact that wood work is being matched over a distance of 3000 miles after a Chicago contractor had failed to match the wood work properly despite the fact that his material was all at hand.

The residence to be erected on Riverdale Drive at a cost of $10,000 will have a number of exclusive features in Batchelder art tile mantels; an ice box to be fed from the exterior of the house and an electric fan to be inserted in the hood above the kitchen stove to carry off the fumes of cooking. Plans for the house show that it will be built on the Swiss chalet order and will have three spacious balconies.

A special feature will be the heating arrangement on the unit system plan which is entirely controlled by electricity from any part of the house. The size of the building will be 58 feet by 34 feet.

The knowledge a college graduate has in his head does him very little good until he gets the swelling out of his head.

$5000 RESIDENCE FOR KENNETH ROAD

George A. Montgomery, 1700 Kenneth road, has accepted plans drawn by the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber Company for a residence to be erected on Pacific avenue near Kenneth road which will prove to be one of the most attractive homes in Glendale when completed. The Bentley-Schoeneman Company furnishes plans without cost if lumber is purchased from the firm.

Hardwood floors, Batchelder tile, fire place and cement porch and terrace will be some of the outstanding features of the house which will be of Colonial style. The estimated cost of the dwelling is $5,000.

HOWARD RALSTON AND MISS PICKFORD

The report that Mary Pickford and her husband, Douglas Fairbanks, are motoring to Burlingame to film scenes from the Kohl mansion there for the exterior in her coming production of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," recalls the fact that Howard Ralston, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Ralston, former residents of this city, has a juvenile lead in several of Miss Pickford's plays and has won his way into the actress' heart as well as into her good graces as an artist and producer.

Mrs. Ralston recently declared that she and her family had not ceased to love Glendale nor to plan to return to this city to live. At the present time, she and her husband and their son, Clarence, are filling roles in the Pilgrim play at Hollywood.

MERCHANTS' EXPO BUSINESS GETTER

That the Merchants' Exposition to be held from August 27 to September 3 will be the biggest thing of its kind ever attempted in Glendale is evinced in the fact that more than a score of local dealers have already engaged tent space and are demonstrating an unparalleled enthusiasm over the prospects of displaying their merchandise in the attractive manner that has been arranged.

With a huge tent 100 feet wide by 300 feet long, covering an area of 30,000 square feet, which will be lined with booths for individual exhibits, and a stage and overhead promenade for special displays and entertainments no steps will be left untaken to secure the best results possible for merchants who choose to subscribe to the exposition.

The director of the exposition, H. Elmo La Breque, who was formerly associated with Grauman's Theatre in Los Angeles, has had vast experience in conducting expositions of this character. The success he achieved in Whittier, Pasadena and other cities about Los Angeles has led the local chamber of commerce to lend him its undivided support in the present project.

Tent space for displays may be secured through representatives of the exposition at the chamber of commerce offices where blue prints of the floor plans are on view to prospective exhibitors.

Glendale Theatre

Buck Jones, the daring William Fox cowboy star, is announced as the attraction at the Glendale theater today in his latest picture, "Two Moons," which is declared to be the most entrancing in which this rising young western luminary has yet appeared. Adapted from Robert Welles Ritchie's well-known tale of the Wyoming cattle country and the feud between the cattlemen and the sheep herders, this photoplay is said to give this handsome actor and daredevil his greatest opportunity to win new admirers.

Jones enacts the role of Original Bill Blunt, a cattleman, who complicates the bitter hatred between the cowmen and sheep herders by falling in love with the wild and tempestuous daughter of a slain sheepman. There are said to be some brand-new thrills in the picture. One of the moments of white hot interest is when Original with a mocking smile, dares the girl to shoot him.

Edward J. Le Saint adapted the picture from the story and directed it. Carol Holloway, a winsome actress, has the part of Hilma Ring, the sheepman's daughter.

Palace Grand

"Man-Woman-Marriage" scored another triumph at the Palace Grand last night when scores of people who had been recommended to see the gorgeous spectacle, by persons having witnessed it the night before, filled the theatre to capacity. The picture to be shown again offers Dorothy Phillips starring in this much talked of "eternal drama."

"Man-Woman-Marriage" is a condensed history of the world's progress—a screen epic and proof positive of woman's subtle and benign influence over the destiny of mankind.

In the retrospective Roman scenes of this stirring modern story, beautiful Dorothy Phillips is seen as a Christian slave girl at the court of the Emperor Constantine. In the mighty splendor of this potentate's magnificence is pictured the decadence of civilization—the period when man lived for pleasure. It is the period whose unrestrained orgies were notable even in the reign of an Augustus Caesar. In the striking contrast is Dorothy Phillips in the role of a despised and tortured slave steadfastly refusing to forewear the tenets of Christianity.

Down through the ages, as depicted in "Man-Woman-Marriage," the talented Miss Phillips indelibly impresses the spectator with the influence for good woman has wielded over man. In the modern story of this magnificent film, Miss Phillips is no less impressive in her role as a woman of our times.

Earl of Craven's Death Recalls Noted Wedding

Written by MARGERY REX for the International News Service

NEW YORK, July 26.—London is shocked at the tragic death of the Earl of Craven, who was drowned off the Isle of Wight recently.

Waves of excitement which the drowning caused have spread to our own shores, since the late nobleman was connected by marriage with one of the most spectacular families of our social history, the Bradley-Martins. The ill-fated Earl, at the time of the accident, wore his black pearl studs, regarded by his family as the agents of ill-fortune.

Way back in 1893, in Grace Church, the Earl of Craven took his bride the sixteen-year-old daughter of the Bradley-Martins, Cornelia. Such an immense throng gathered to witness the schoolgirl wed the peer that all order was forgotten. The crowd became hysterical at the sight of such luxury and style and stole aisle ribbons, flowers and many of the gay wedding trappings.

Believed True Love Match

But the marriage, in spite of the more riotous aspects of the actual ceremony, was generally conceded to be a stroke of genius on the part of the bride's mother, of whom her friends said: "She did well for Cornelia." Few outside of Mrs. Bradley-Martins' own circle of intimates had known of the daughter attending school and brought out in time to capture the love of the young Earl.

Yet this was a true love match, so the gossips say. Perhaps that accounts for the unbroken years of domestic felicity that have followed, until the tragedy of the Earl's death.

The passing of Cornelia Bradley-Martins' husband again aroused interest in that resplendent couple, her parents, both of whom are now deceased.

Mrs. Bradley-Martins was admittedly a social genius. Her brilliant engineering of her daughter's love affair with the Earl was followed by many other bold strokes which raised her to the high position she desired.

Ball Won't Be Forgotten

The Bradley-Martins ball has never been forgotten. This magnificent event, which cost a quarter of a million dollars, was given at the Waldorf-Astoria in 1897, and was bitterly criticized by ministers and social workers of that day.

At the fancy dress affair, which was the form the entertainment took, the hostess appeared in a stunning costume of royal blue velvet, representing Marguerite of Valois. Flunkies in pale blue and gold opened carriage doors. The ballroom was a veritable bower of roses and orchids. Tapestries hung from balconies. A dinner was served which, costing $110 a plate, beat the record for elaborate dining established up to that time.

Over and above all shone the regal hostess, who is said to have worn jewels worth a half a million. One ornament, a diamond stomacher, being valued at $250,000.

Not very long after this gorgeous affair the Bradley-Martins decided to leave America. Some said the censure of the public following the ball was difficult to bear. Others laughed at the idea of such well-established persons being disturbed over the phrases of the ranters. Gave London Several Surprises

However, the couple left for London. And in that city Mrs. Bradley-Martins' "Dinner for Eighty," given in an extension dining room built over her own back yard by means of a special floor and ceiling, was one of the sensations of the London season.

Yet this conspicuous expenditure was not the first England knew of the Martins' lavish spirit. To their generous purses Coombe Abbey, the county seat of the Earl of Craven, owed its restoration. Although Miss Cornelia Martin brought a full pocket-book to her husband's home it was never believed the marriage took place solely for monetary reasons so far as the Earl was concerned. Nevertheless, his bride's riches helped materially in preserving the fine old atmosphere of the abbey.

Viscount Uffington, the only son of the drowned Earl, found his romance, when, during the war, he met and married the attractive daughter of a clerk in Ross-shire.

The Cravens failed to frown on this apparent messalliance, as they were expected to do, but took their new daughter-in-law to live with them, while their son went to the front. He was sent to France with his regiment, where he lost a leg and was badly wounded.

There is a son by the boy's marriage, who will be heir to most of the wealth left by the late Bradley-Martins.

Daughter Not Great Spender

Cornelia Martin and the Earl failed, in their own social life, to set such a precedent for spending and sensationalism as did the elder Martins. When Mrs. Bradley-Martins was to be present at the coronation of the late Edward VII, a society journal, commenting on her rumored purchase of a tiara, said: "Mrs. Martin must remember that it is Edward who is to be crowned."

Bradley-Martins, Jr., brother of the Countess Craven, however, had a jolly Scottish ceremony when he married Helen Phipps, of Pittsburgh. The wedding took place in Scotland, where kilts, plaid skirts and highland flings to the skirl of pipes made an effective and expensive start on the road of matrimony.

Few know what unhappy fate is connected with the inconspicuous black pearl studs worn by the late Earl. There is said to be a legend of bad luck connected with the wearing of these ornaments. It was revived after the news of his death was made public.

MAKES GOOD PROMISE TO WED EX-CONVICT

(By International News Service)

BROCKTON, Mass., July 26.—Living up to her promise made to her sweetheart when he was sentenced to the Plymouth House of Correction several months ago for manslaughter, Miss Bernice Holland, formerly of Brockton, went to Great Bay, Nova Scotia, last week and was married to John A. Donnell, restaurant owner.

Donnell was liberated from Plymouth jail several weeks ago, his sentence being cut short in order to enable him to go to Nova Scotia to see his father, who was critically ill. He was convicted of having caused the death of a man by running him down with his automobile last fall. At the time Miss Holland made the promise that she would wait for him and would marry him when he was given his freedom.

PORTABLE GROCERY STORES IN DAYTON

(By International News Service)
DAYTON, Ohio, July 26.—Groceries on wheels!

This innovation is to be launched here.

Arrangements have been made by a Dayton company to operate one hundred of these portable stores. The trucks are to be twenty-two feet long and six feet wide, each with two and one-half ton capacity. The grocery store bodies are now being built.

It is planned that each portable store shall carry a full line of provisions, with a clerk in charge. In order that housewives may know when to expect the grocery-on-wheels to stop in front of her door the trucks will be run on schedule.

Similar portable stores, also, are to be used in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin as soon as they can be built.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmothers made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep their locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

HONOR THE FLAG

The Glendale Daily Press struck a responsive chord in its offer of a beautiful bunting flag with each yearly subscription paid in advance. All we could procure at that time were speedily taken and many applied for the flags after the supply had been exhausted. To satisfy these demands we have ordered a new supply, and these will be given on the same terms as were the first. The Daily Press is not doing this as a money-making proposition, for the flags are quite costly and the paper is worth every cent asked for it, but we desire to do our bit toward stimulating patriotism and reverence for the flag. We hope to eventually see "Old Glory" displayed in every Glendale home, and we want to do our part toward bringing this about.

Fill out the coupon below and bring it or mail it to the office, accompanied with $5 for a year's advance subscription, and a flag will be laid away for you. If in arrears, pay to date and a year in advance to get the flag.

Thought for Today—A bright sunshiny face makes fine weather in the world any day in the week.

BE LOYAL TO GLENDALE

Every property owner in Glendale should be interested in its progress beyond the mere desire to live within its boundaries. The resident who takes no interest in government, in aiding enterprises and in fostering home industries, is really a handicap. Every profiteer in necessities, every landlord who exacts his "pound of flesh" in his dealings with tenants, is an enemy to progress and should be viewed as such. No city in the land can surpass Glendale in the possession of virtues that make for clean lines, morally and physically. From every point of view it really is a privilege to live in such a city, but here and there, like the black spots on a health map, fault-finders are to be found who have no legitimate excuse, either for their dismal croakings or for continuing to live.

THEN AND NOW

Three years ago the great war was shaking the foundations of the world. Men were saying—some men—"Where is now thy God?" But it was not hard then for the most of us to hold to our faith. The problem did not seem difficult. The world had defied the moral universe, had set up the golden calf of self and greed, had held high carnival and then, suddenly, had rolled within the sweep of the mills of the gods—the eternal gods of righteousness and truth and justice. These mills began to grind. We said "cause and effect; seedtime and harvest; the wind and the whirlwind." We thought we understood it. It was all going to be justified by a world new-born out of the night of unutterable retribution.

The armistice was signed. Alas, the world that was caught between the upper and nether millstones of the moral order seems to have been crushed too fine to be remade again. Where is the good will between the nations which was to mark the golden age—when, chastened by war, mankind should glory in a common brotherhood? When, as even we then boasted, "Humanity should be above all nations?" When to be 100 per cent American meant self-denial or even death, if need be, to save a world beyond ourselves? Where sits today that dreamed-of group of statesmen, done with secret diplomacy, done with the eager hunger for place and power and control of the markets of the earth?

Never throughout the war did the whole seething turmoil of things look so without plan or purpose as does this confused and turbid whirl of opposing and contending forces now calling itself Europe. No wonder the faith not founded on the rock is swaying to and fro and wondering in the darkness whether this be God's world or the devil's.

Civilization after civilization has gone down into the pit. But faith has not died. It has always emerged with clearer vision and more radiant hope. So shall it yet again. We, too, we of this modern world, may vanish into the night like the empires of the past, and leave not a wrack behind of all our busy, rushing life. But what of this? This still is the faith of some of us that, "through the ages one eternal purpose runs," and that truth and right and love do now sit somewhere, the crowned masters of the world.

GRAVE AND GAY

The great need at present is fewer experts and more exports.

There is some consolation in the reflection that shoe profiteers are now on their uppers.

Nearly all great men are married. It is struggle and opposition that develops latent genius.

At times it is difficult to decide which causes the greater heart burning, an empire or an umpire.

"Johnny," said the teacher reprovingly, "you misspelled most of the words in your composition."

"Yes'm; I'm going to be a dialect writer."

Friend—"That movie actor is very pompous. He boasts that he has arrived."

Director—"He has. This is where he gets off."

A good deal of criticism of bathing suits is heard each summer and yet, if there weren't any bathing suits—

One who finds it necessary to advertise his virtues doesn't have any.

Grocer—"We have some very fine string beans today."

Mrs. Newbridge—"How much are they a string?"

A story is told of two colored men who were sitting on the steps of a Louisiana grocery store.

"What have you named your baby, Rastus?" asked one of them.

"Sam Pro Tem Johnson, sah."

"What's the Pro Tem for?"

"To show that the name is only temporary, sar. We kinder thought

Sam might like to choose his own name when he grew up, so we put in de Pro Tem as a warning to de public."

During the cross-examination of a witness in a case tried in an Iowa court, the examining lawyer demanded rather pompously:

"Now, sir, did you or did you not, on the day in question or at any other time, say to the defendant or anyone else that the statement imputed to you and denied by the plaintiff was a matter of no moment or otherwise? Answer me, yes or no."

The witness seemed bewildered. "Yes or no what?" he finally managed to gasp out.

And when it comes to making war, a tongue that rattles frequently is mightier than a sword that rattles.

Making money shows talent; saving it, art.

The bedraggled individual indignantly denied that he was intoxicated when the police officer testified that he found the prisoner lying in the street.

"Very well, then," retorted the ver-satile judge. "You're fined $5 for parking more than six inches from the curb."

"Why did you quit smoking?"

"It has gotten so it looks effeminate."

WOMAN'S COZY CORNER

By JOSEPHINE FRANCE

Comfortable Corset

The woman who did her own housework ten years ago either "wore out her old corset around the house" mornings or did without one altogether while pursuing her domestic labors, much to the detriment of her figure lines. But it was impossible to work freely and comfortably in a new corset and very extravagant besides—for nothing pulls a good corset out of shape more speedily than bending, stooping, stretching and lifting of housework. Now the housewife provides herself with a working corset and puts it on under her neat house dress when she gets up in the morning. She takes no chances on spreading figure lines which inevitably result from housework done in no corset at all, but she buys a corset that allows perfect freedom of movement, whether she wants to climb a stepladder, dust under the dining room table, pull rugs about, or do any of those things which require untrammelled muscles.

For the slim woman there are girdles—delightfully comfortable affairs—but the stout woman cannot wear girdles. In the first place few of them come in a size larger than thirty, and in the second place they have an aggravating way of "cutting in" at the waistline when there is considerable fat above this point. And any ordinary corset even if worn very loosely, is apt to be too long over the hips to permit easy stooping and bending. But every housewife will appreciate the new corsetette which combines a very short girdle and a brassiere or bandeau, supporting the figure perfectly but giving free play to every single muscle above and below the waist.

At the front a flat panel extends down over the abdomen and is held firmly by hose supporters but at sides and back the girdle comes only a few inches below the waistline and the bandeau part supports the bust in trim lines.

POCKETS ON BATHING SUITS

Thousands of handkerchiefs must have been lost in the days before bathing suits had pockets, or those pocketless bathers must have gotten along somehow without handkerchiefs. How uncomfortable they must have been, coming up out of the water with dripping faces—and no way of wiping the brine out of their eyes! For even a wet handkerchief is better than none at all. Now, however, the handkerchief can be tucked into a convenient pocket and the pocket is attached to the bathing-suit in various places. It may be in the skirt of the tunic or attached to the leg of the bloomer and the pocket usually has a buttoned flap so that the handkerchief cannot slip out. A new bathing suit for this year is of knitted jersey material and the tunic has three gay little ruffles of taffeta silk. Above the ruffles at the front of the skirt are set two jaunty little taffeta pockets with buttoned flaps. The skirt is just short enough to show the edges of knitted worsted bathing trunks and the trunks are short enough to reveal the turn of the knees.

STUDIO NEWS AND GOSSIP

Why should a crook rescue an innocent girl on her way to jail for a crime she didn't commit? Why should he buy her expensive clothes and take her to Paris, though he didn't even like her? That is the story about which, "The Bait" featuring Hope Hampton is built.

"One Man in a Million," the new Robertson-Cole super-special release, which has been heralded throughout the country as the greatest drama ever filmed features George Beban, whose reputation as a wonderful character actor is international.

It took just one solid year to make this wonderful film, Mr. Beban personally doing all the work of production and direction after he had written the story. The result obtained justified the time spent.

The Marshall Neilan "blimp" used in the production of "Bob Hampton of Placer," the new Neilan spectacle released by Associated First National, took part in the first dirigible race ever staged in the country, at Long Beach, California, recently.

The event marked the special attraction at the big Winter air races, in which many famous flyers and aeroplane stunts men vied with each other in thrilling the thirty thousand spectators.

Crane Wilbur, erstwhile screen favorite, is now in vaudeville.

House Peters is the proud father of a son, a very recent arrival.

Gladys Hulette is playing opposite Richard Barthelmess in "Toile David."

Viora Daniel is now with Christie, appearing in featured comedy roles.

Sylvia Breamer will play opposite Tom Moore in his next picture, "The Man With Two Mothers."

Carol Dempster, star of Griffith's "Dream Street," is in Europe for a rest.

Cecil B. de Mille's recently completed picture will go to the screen as "Fool's Paradise."

Walter Hiers may be said to play the "name part" in Wanda Hawley's last Realart picture, "Her Sturdy Oak."

OF INTEREST TO MUSICIANS

The many friends of L. E. Bebymer, popular and widely known California manager, will be glad to know that he has fully recovered from his last serious prolonged illness. Although unable to attend the managers' meeting in Chicago recently, he sent a representative in Rena MacDonald, his secretary and associate in business. The latter was in Chicago until July 13; she was entertained by the various New York managers. The California music season will be opened under the Behymer banner on October 3, by the Scotti Grand Opera Company, with events closely looked from that time until the close of April, when Los Angeles will have McCormack and Gall-Curel.

Genia Fonarova, the Russian mezzo soprano, is new to this country, but her friends here are already legion. She has been successful in her native country and England, and brings to America the real Slavonic temperament in all its exotic charm. Mme. Fonarova will have a busy season in 1921-1922, judging from present bookings. She will appear this Summer at Ocean Grove, and will open her season next fall in the Maine festivals in October.

One of the most popular of John Pringle Scott's sacred songs is the setting of "Come Ye Blessed," already issued in two keys for high and medium voice. The publishers, G. Shirmer have just issued a third edition for low voice in E flat, to meet the demand among church soloists.

S. Hurok, head of the S. Hurok's Musical Bureau, now traveling across the country in behalf of the Pavo Ballet tour announced that he has closed with L. E. Bebymer and S. Oppenheimer of Los Angeles and San Francisco respectively, whereby the latter two will present the dancer and her company for engagements lasting three and a half weeks on the coast during the month of January.

Annie Louise David, the harpist, is at present enjoying a rest at Portland where she is also preparing for her western tour. Miss David leaves for California on August 10. Included among her appearance in the west is an engagement on September 4, with the California Orchestra of San Francisco.

Frieda Hempel made a most sensational debut in Copenhagen, appearing as soloist with the Tivoli Symphony orchestra. The audience called her back again and again and the thousands of her admirers who were unable to get tickets waited outside to cheer her as she left the theatre. Because Miss Hempel's two scheduled appearances were immediately sold out an extra concert was added.

The audience which crowded the Imperial theatre on the occasion of the last of the series of five concerts that Mme. Shuman-Heink gave in Tokio on her tour of the Orient, was perhaps the most enthusiastic audience which ever greeted an artist on that stage. Mme. Shuman-Heink sang as one inspired, and the welcome she received was absolutely unqualified, almost approaching abandon. Mme. Shuman-Heink and her accompanist were recalled again and again until the Imperial visitors departed. But the audience could not be satisfied, so the great artist sang, by request, Der Wanderer.

Mme. Yanagi, the very charming Japanese singer, when asked her opinions concerning Mme. Shuman-Heink, said, "She is so great, her art is so wonderful, that I can say nothing which would not be impertinence."

There is no doubt that the success of these concerts will do much to advance the opinion of Japan in the music world.

COUNTESS MARIE DI ZOPPOLA

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 26.--One effect of the drastic enforcement of the new Immigration law here and at other ports will be to provide a serious obstacle to the "homecoming" plans of several American women who have sacrificed their American citizenship for foreign titles, the Customs officials discovered recently. It is within the range of possibility that some of the homesick ones may have to prolong their residence abroad indefinitely for another year at least.

Under the law only 3 per cent of the nationals residing here when the 1910 census was taken may be admitted in any one year hereafter. Immigration officials say the provision will be enforced against the rich and poor immigrants alike, cabin aliens being compelled to remain aboard ship along with their brethren in the steerage until Washington can rule on their admissibility under the quota clause of the law.

Arrivals reaching New York or other ports after the quota is filled will be turned back. Several nationalities are already nearing their quota for the year, some having been practically filled already this month. If any of the expatriated women should therefore arrive to find the quota for her nationality already filled by other arrivals at this and other ports there would be nothing for her to do but engage passage back to Europe and wait for another "try" in the future.

One of the women with cause to worry under Uncle Sam's tightening restrictions is the Countess Anton Sigra, who before her marriage was Miss Harriot Daly, daughter of the late Marcus Daly and heiress to a large part of the fortune which he made in copper. This couple met at the wedding of Count Laszlo Szechenyi and Miss Gladys Vanderbilt here in 1908 and were married by Ambassador Gerard, who represented United States at Berlin up to the beginning of the war.

The count served in the war as a lieutenant of the Third Hussars of Germany and was at one time reported to have been taken prisoner by the Russians. In view of severe economic condition in Germany since the war friends of the Countess would not be surprised to hear of her decision to return home any time.

Another possible victim of the law's operation is the Duchess of Croly, formerly Miss Nancy Leishman, of Pittsburgh, daughter of a former Ambassador to Berlin. They were married in October, 1913, the Duke being a descendant of the ancient royal house of Hungary. In the eyes of the German law it was a morganatic marriage and the young American woman's title not officially recognized. A son was born to this couple in October, 1914.

Still another feminine title holder reported to be casting longing eyes toward her native American shores is the Countess Marie di Zoppola, formerly Miss Edith Mortimer, daughter of the Stanley Mortimers and one of the best known beauties of New York, Newport and Long Island society. She became the bride of the Count, then an Italian aviator, in June, 1919, the ceremony taking place at the home of the bride's parents at Roslyn, L. I.

Miss Mortimer, it will be recalled, was indicted on a charge of manslaughter after an automobile she was driving ran down and killed a man, but the indictment was dismissed. Owing to the publicity of the case the couple kept their wedding place a secret until the last minute.

The Countess de Lasteyries, formerly Miss Constance Whitney Warren, daughter of Mrs. George Henry Warren, of this city, is still another cause to be interested in the new immigration ban. She is now living in Paris. She was married to the Count in 1912 at the Warren home, No. 924 Fifth avenue. The Count's family was one of the most distinguished of French nobility.

True, any of these women would be permitted merely to visit their home country at any time they chose. They might even prolong the "visits" indefinitely. If the immigration authorities have reason to suspect any of these "visits," however, they are authorized to require the "visitor" to put up a bond which would be liable to forfeiture and the giver subject to deportation at the expiration of six months.

Birthday Party for Mary Davis

Little Mary Olive Davis, daughter of Earl C. Davis, of the Davis & Foster Transfer Company, of 138 South Adams street, celebrated her first birthday Monday afternoon. Seven babies and their mothers were guests at her party and all had a very good time. In honor of the event the Davis home was decorated with Cecil Brunner roses and a pink-and-white color scheme was carried out in the pretty appointments of the refreshment table, where a place of honor was given to a beautiful birthday cake made for and presented to the baby honoree by Mrs. Bertha Heffner Genger, who had beautifully decorated the confection with Cecil Brunners in pink frosting. Mary Olive was well remembered by all her friends and relatives, receiving gifts from Dallas, Texas; Michigan City, Ind., and Chicago. The baby guests were: Margie Lowe, Richard and Byron Hardy of Burbank, Katherine-Emma Garrison, Maurine and Romana McIntyre.

WANDERING SHORE BIRDS

By ALFRED COOKMAN, M. S.

A great many people go to the seashore in the summertime. This is indeed a fine time to study the birds that frequent our sandy shores.

I prefer the seashore in the late fall of the year when the wave of bird migration is in progress. During the summer months, one has the opportunity to see a large number of varieties on the beach playing "tag" with the ocean waves.

Many, many times have I followed the coast line and have watched the waves break upon the beach, and have heard the call notes of the shore birds in the early hours of the morning and their retreating notes at dusk, as the huge sun was sinking behind the horizon. Nature charms you.

The great truths are evidently not meant for us. There seems to be no answer. We grope blindly for causes, dragging to light plausible theories that last a little while and then go their way. The swirls of the sea are mysterious as the depths of the great ocean.

I love the sounding shores and I stand silently watching the waves as they rise and form the crest and then break with a roar on the beach. The most graceful and the most perfect form of a breaker is shown where the water strikes the beach, not at an angle, but broadside.

At low tide, the little sandpipers, the red-backed, western type, appear on the shore, and they seem to "play a game of tag" with the waves. When the water moves in on the sand, they alight in a flock, and as the water recedes, they race back to the sea, probing in the wet sand with merry, sparkling glee and gathering low forms of marine denizens in their hungry bills.

Near Hermosa Beach a few weeks ago, I watched a small flock of Hudsonian Curlews (Numenius Hudsonicus) approach the shore. They are sometimes called "beach birds"—playing tag with the ocean.

Very little is known of the black-footed Albatross (Diomedea nigripes). It is said to breed on the islands be-points of interest. For their fishing trip they motored below Campo, having wonderful luck. They were accompanied by their cousin, George Klamm.

Mervyn Mills has sold his home on North Maryland avenue to a newcomer from the east, a Mr. Hankey, and has purchased a lot in the 600 block on the same street on which he plans to start the erection of a six-room house within the next ten days. He and Mrs. Mills will be guests of her parents until the new home is finished.

According to word received from the Misses Ethel Preston, Nancy St. Clair and Elsie Wilson, those young ladies are having a fine time in the east in spite of the hot weather. They left Glendale about a month ago for New York city, to attend the International Christian Endeavor convention. At present they are in Washington and expect to return to Glendale about August 15.

Mrs. J. W. Stauffacher, who is visiting her daughter in Dallas, Tex., wrote her husband, City Treasurer Stauffacher, that she had arrived safely after a very pleasant trip, but when her trunk was delivered to her she found it had been broken open en route and a dress and a box of candy stolen. The trunk was locked and strapped when it left here and also when it arrived, but it showed it had been tampered with.

Mrs. I. J. McReynolds of 336 North Kenwood street has been entertaining her father, S. W. James, and family, of Murietta, during the past week. A family reunion was enjoyed by the James family. Those present were: Mrs. D. L. Lucey and Roy E. James, of Glendale; Dwight James, radio officer for the Robin Goodfellow line; and Mrs. Ella J. Bolton of Los Angeles. Theater parties and picnics at the parks and beaches were enjoyed. Leslie McReynolds, who is spending the summer at Catalina, was the only grandchild not present.

Quick Results

That Daily Press ads bring quick results is the experience of A. W. Van Loon as well as many others. After trying another medium with no results, but one or two fruitless inquiries he tried the Daily Press classified columns and the very first insertion brought a buyer for the residence property he advertised. A few weeks later he had an exactly similar experience in selling some household furnishings, so he is now firmly convinced that Daily Press ads bring quick results.

to Canada and Greenland to nest as the seasons change below the equator.

The shore birds are long, slender-legged waders. Their bodies are marvelously built for endurance—endurance of cold, wind, storm and hunger. They are destined to be the true ocean waifs, traveling alone or in flocks hither and yon, always songless and sometimes voiceless, with eyes seldom closing in sleep, and with wings seldom folding in rest.

It seems as though nothing could weary them. Our shore birds spend whole days and even weeks, upon the wing, darting, soaring, wheeling, racing on the sandy beach or among the rocks of red and gold.

To the shore bird is given not only grace in flight and poise above all others, but also charm in color. Their colors harmonize with the background of gray sea and blend with the white sand on the shore. Nature has touched their uniforms with sober tints of brown, gray, black and white. They have a mission to fulfill. They have their portion of the life and care and wisdom of Creation, just as the sea, with its hidden creative forms, has, too, its portion to fulfill, in all its magnificence and splendor.
